THE SOUTH OMAHA BUDGET

Changes in the Ball Club-The City's First Chain Gang-A Warning to Tramps-

The City Conneil.

Notes.

The city hall was crowded Monday night, the biggest part of the crowd were the eighteen tram ps that held down the cells in the dark end of the room. The eight members of the council took their places on the old stand nearest the door, and the members of the citizens committee sat with them. In the absence of City Marshal McCracken, Mayor Sloan called the members to order, and then Clerk Hoctor read the minutes for the information of the dozen electors that lined the walls and sat in silent admiration. They were duly adopted, and on inction of Councilman Me-Millan the rules were suspended and the citi-Milan the rules were suspended and the citizens committee heard in reference to the occupation tax. James H. Van Dusen prosented the petition and for fifteen minutes held the council down with an eloquent discourse, that was listened to alike by the gentieman both before and behind the bars. He referred to the selfishness of the few outside parties who advocated the scheme for the purpose of freezing out less onlient competitors, to the freezing out less opulent competitors, to the inopportune time chosen for raising civic salinopportune time chosen for raising civic sal-aries on an empty treasury, to real estate as being the proper basis of taxation, and then he presented the resolutions as already reported in The Ber. His remarks were brought to a close amidst loud applause, in which the eighteen prisoners took a pro-nounced part. Councilman McMillan, in re-ply, objected to the remarks made in the citizens' meeting, which seemed to infer that some members paid no taxes. He was will-ing to bet from $100 to $500 that he paid more taxes than the man that said it. Councilman taxes than the man that said it. Councilman Bayliss objected to the resolutions because they interfered with the increase of salary, and claimed that the increase was perfectly legitimate. He thought Dr. Glasgow and others in the room were at the head of it, for the doctor had told him they would never get it. Councilman Smith then moved that the resolution be referred to the ordinance committee, and Councilman Bayliss in seconding the motion, moved that the addinger by the statement of the Councilman Bayliss in seconding the motion, moved that the ordinance be stricken from the file. This motion carried and the electors, drawing a breath, adjourned to the nearest saloons, while the councilmen were satisfied with water, and the marshal was sent out for a can and a dipper. He secured a pitcher and a glass instead and while the councilmen were refreshing, the few electors left behind, were refreshing, the few electors left behind, talked over next year's election, and the prisoners talked about their chances on the morrow. The recess was brought to a close by Clerk Hoctor announcing that Howard Meyers, C. A. Melcher, Bernard Kribb and Henry Michael had complied with the regulations and were entitled to a license. Councilman McMillan then moved that all persons who had not complied with the persons who had not complied with the rules should be closed by the city marshal, and the motion carried. Then the clerk read an ordinance calling for the appointment of a city scavenger, with powers to remove all kinds of refuse at so many cents per barrel, and it was referred to the health committee. There was some trouble as to who were the committee appointed to see the Union Pacific officials about having the dummy stop at the officials about having the dummy stop at the Q street crossing, and it was settled by putting the work on the mayor, Rafferty and Bayliss. A petition asking that city officers be furnished with copies of the city directory was referred to the committee on-printing, and another to prevent the herding or running at large of cattle within the city limits was referred to the committee on public buildings, probably because there are no public buildings. The first damper on the proceedings was a petition from Henry J. Abrams, claiming damages from the city if they did not look after the drainage on N street. James P. Hayes next petitioned the council to become city scavenger, and as he only charged 25 cents per barrel, and as he only charged 25 cents per barrel, he was referred to the health committee. The report of the city treasurer showed that on May 1 there were $647.72 in the general fund, $641.81 in the dog fund, and $1.020 in salary fund. That, however, was on May 1, and there have been some heavy drafts against it since then.

The police judge handed in his report, and showed that sixty-seven prisoners had been arrested, and fined, $107 collected. How to collect a dog tax then took up some time and when the discussion wa over, it was found, it re-mained as before. The salary ordinanbe was then read for the third and last time, and the councilmen will in future receive 500 per cent increase, unless anyone cares enough about it to secure a restraining order from the courts. Its adoption was moved by Councilman Bayliss, seconded by Council-man O'Rourke, and voted on by the rest of the council, Councilman Rafferty alone being absent and the police alone being forgotten. Peter Hanson went grubbing on Twenty-fourth street and charged $100, and his bill, with others amounting to $509.03, was re-ferred to the finance committee. On motion of Councilman McMillan the city engineer was told to hurry up the plans necessary to the various projected viaduets, and when Councilman Feuno moved that two special policemen be appointed to attend all ball games at the expense of the ball club, Marshal McCracken asked that the specials be taken from the regular force. He got his wish, but not until some members said they thought the present force should do it for nothing. It came out that there was no money to pay them for from three to twelve months, and as that wes evidently satisfactory to the councilmen, the debate was dropped, and another taken upon the subject of furnish. councilmen, the debate was dropped, and another taken up on the subject of furnishing the jail with a telephone. It was found it would cost $132 a year, and a committe of one was appointed to see if the telephone company would not put one in for charity's sake—that is, for nothing. Councilman Bayliss was the unlucky committee and the city attorney was instructed to draft the ordinances necessary for voting bonds on sawdinances necessary for voting bonds on sew-serage and water. Then they adjourned.

Notes About the City. Dogs are valued at different rates by the councilmen. The mayor wanted them taxed $1 to give the poor man a chance, Fenno wanted it placed at $3 as they do in the east, and Bayliss wanted to charge them $5 because they bit at his horse and he did not own one. own one. The base ball association is to be turned into a stock company with 100 shares at $10 cach. The prospects are bright for both shareholders and patrons of the game, and the finances are in good condition. Emanuel Straw, president of the board of fire insurance underwriters, Cleveland, is on a visit to Charles Singer. Monday night a dozen vags were found sleeping in a freight car and Officers Redmond and Anderson "surrounded" them. They were locked up just in time to take an interest in the city council proceedings and were evidently dead against the occupation or any other tax. Yesterday they were out in squads cleaning the streets to pay for their lodging, and among other improvements.

piece of work. A Novel Clock.

A watch dial now being made in the Waltham works contains, instead of the usual numerals, twelve small but dis-tinct silhouette figures representing a very young child in her arms. At o'cloch the lady and her little baby are clearly depicted, the infant being in long clothes. At 2 o'clock the same figures appear, but the child is a little larger. At 3 o'clock mamma is still, there, but the infant is in short clothes. At 4 o'clock and so on up to 8 o'clock, when he goes to school for the time. At of many winters have passed. At 12 o'clock an old and decrepit specimen of humanity praying for a better land.

9 o'clock he may be seen with his col-lege gown and mortar board and the happy smile of the now elderly but happy mother. At 10 o'clock the deathbed scene, where he parts with his be-loved mother. At 11 o'clock he is a middle-aged man, over whom the snows
